These Rules and Regulations are derived from the Declarations of Covenants, Articles of Incorporation, Conditions and Restrictions, as supplemented by the By-Laws, when you purchased your home.

The Homeowners Manual contains the governing documents, and the Rules and Regulations. The Declarations provide a master plan for the ownership of your townhome in which you live, own or rent, and for your co-ownership of the common area of CHOA. They also provide management guidelines for the CHOA Board of Directors and outline not only specific legal requirements but also certain guidelines that are consistent, harmonious and acceptable for the entire community. The management agent will bill homeowner, if appropriate, for any damages done as result of any activity (i.e. broken windows, graffiti). Excessive noise as the result of any activity should be kept to a minimum as to not disturb or annoy residents.

VI. USE OF THE CLUBHOUSE

The clubhouse is the main feature of the CHOA amenities. As such, the CHOA wishes to take sufficient, reasonable steps to preserve its condition and appearance so that all community residents may enjoy its use. Help us to maintain the building health of our Clubhouse in your community by volunteering for the Clubhouse Maintenance Committee.

Section 1. General Use. The clubhouse will be used solely for the pleasure of the residents for private (not public) social activities, and Association official and social functions. Commercial uses, such as commercial or business meetings, gatherings, causes, or other functions, which are intended to fund or support a business, are not permitted. Scheduling for using the clubhouse for overnight parties or accommodations is prohibited.

Section 2. Control. A CHOA Board Member, normally the Maintenance Chairman will be appointed to act as the clubhouse agent hereafter referred to as “agent” for the clubhouse. In special cases, an additional agent is appointed to act as the clubhouse agent. That information can be found on your CHOA Community Directory. He or she would have the authority to take any necessary actions to ensure the clubhouse is in a clean and usable condition. The agent may purchase and will be reimbursed for supplies, which will be stored in the clubhouse for use by the residents, whether they use and/or clean the clubhouse. The agent will present a receipt for those supplies to the CHOA Board for its approval for reimbursement whenever funds have been used for that purpose. The agent should notify the Board when the clubhouse needs extensive cleaning so that an appropriately qualified firm may be solicited for that purpose.

Section 3. Reservations and Deposit. The agent will keep a record of reservations for the clubhouse. No priority will be given to reservations except on a first-come first-serve basis. When making a reservation, it will be temporary until the user deposits with the agent a check for $100 made out to the Canterbury Homeowners Association, dated the day before the anticipated use, as a cleaning/damage deposit. Receipt of the deposit converts to a temporary reservation to a permanent reservation. The clubhouse will be available on the date of the reservation, in a clean and usable condition for the user

Section 4. Inspection.

(a) The agent will inspect the clubhouse with the user either the day before or the day of use so both will be satisfied with the condition of the clubhouse. For ease of inspection, a checklist will be used as a record for both agent and user. At the time of inspection, the agent will provide the key of the clubhouse to the user. The agent will inspect the clubhouse within 24 hours, or at a time agreeable to both the agent and user, but not less than 72 hours, after use to determine that the clubhouse is in the same condition at the time of the first inspection. The user may or may not be present, at the user's choice. In any event, the key will be returned to the agent immediately after the clubhouse has been inspected, as a condition to have the deposit check returned to the user.

(b) In the event that the agent determines that the clubhouse needs additional cleaning, or some sort of replacement or repair of the equipment or interior of the clubhouse per the last user, the user will be notified, and expected to accomplish the necessary actions to the agent's satisfaction. When the agent is satisfied, the deposit check will be returned to the user. If the agent is not satisfied, and the differences cannot be resolved between the agent and the user, the agent will notify the CHOA Board with the check and a verbal report of the situation. The Board will take immediate action to have the deficiency corrected; and then will return the control of the clubhouse back to the agent.

Section 5. Responsibilities. Considerations such as use on successive days by different users must be made aware to both users by the agent, so that cleaning arrangements can be considered and completed before the succeeding user may have their inspection with the agent. Any agreement between successive user which returns the clubhouse to its original clean and usable condition, is certainly welcome. The final condition is still determined by the agent, who has authority to notify the final user that the responsibility for returning the clubhouse to its pre-use condition remains with the final user, regardless of any agreements between successive users.

Section 6. Deposit Return. In the event that damages, or cleaning requirements are such as the deposit check is not sufficient to defray cleaning or repair expenses, the user will be billed for the remainder of the cost. Nonpayment of the bill may call for suitable action by the Board to recover the expenses up to and including any resulting attorney cost for incidents to recovering the additional costs for cleaning/repair. If there is any excess, the user will have the excess return after cleaning is completed.
